The Workplace Big Day Out is just the beginning

You have shown us you enjoy the Workplace Big Day Out and you recognise participation is good for your personal and professional development - and good for your business.

You have also indicated you would like to participate in other projects organised through BacLinks and your workplace. Act now and show your workplace you are keen to get more involved with your community as employee volunteers.

BacLinks can facilitate a range of community-based projects to suit business capacity and interest.

Take the next step beyond the Workplace Big Day Out...
