"I have never participated in anything like this before and was grateful for the experience, which I fully intend to repeat"

"Makes you appreciate what you have"

"I had a ball..."

The Workplace Big Day Out provides a unique introduction to workplace volunteering by bringing together people who would not usually cross paths. Everyone, including your business benefits from this interaction.

Take a step beyond the Workplace Big Day Out...

BAC-Links can assist your business, whatever the size, to establish links and partnerships with community groups to find creative solutions to community issues. These relationships strengthen communities while positively impacting on your business performance.
